

Casey Farm Camps

Saunderstown, Rhode Island

◀ Growing Together

◀ Little Ducklings

◀ Sense of Place

Casey Farm offers three camps, grouped by age, in which children can enjoy days filled with fun and learning experiences on a working organic farm. Three hundred acres of gardens, meadows, woodlands, and shoreline provide a unique setting for camp. Children meet new friends, explore the woods, cultivate and harvest crops, play games, make butter or ice cream, go for a hayride, and swim in the river.

The camp staff—talented educators and energetic young adults—work to provide a safe and rich environment for children. Teachers are certified in First Aid and CPR. A certified lifeguard supervises swimming. Casey Farm is accessible to campers with some special needs.

A historic property owned and operated by Historic New England, Casey Farm has been a working farm since 1702. It is certified organic by the USDA, and its produce is distributed through a Community Supported Agriculture (CSA) program. The historic house and farm buildings, the Casey family cemetery, and the land all afford valuable and exciting resources for the camps.

Growing Together Camp

For campers ages 5–8

Campers experience work and play from a farmer's point of view. What are your morning chores? What do we feed the animals? How do we collect the eggs? What do we do for fun when work is done?

Week 1: July 6–10

Week 2: July 13–17

Week 3: July 20–24

Week 4: July 27–31

A note about placement: Based on age, children are placed into three different groups, and activities are adjusted accordingly. Although we encourage friends to come to camp together, we do not place children more than two years apart in age in the same group.

Sense of Place Camp

For campers age 9–11

In this science-oriented program, campers investigate plants and animals, both domestic and wild, which create the dynamic interaction between Casey Farm and the surrounding land and water.

Week 1: July 6–10

Week 2: July 13–17

Week 3: July 20–24

Week 4: July 27–31

Growing Together and Sense of Place Camps run Monday through Friday, 9 AM–3 PM

Little Ducklings Camp

For campers ages 4–5

A unique camp for young children who are ready to come to Casey Farm on their own but not ready for the full week or day experience. For three mornings a week campers meet the animals, sing farm songs, listen to farm stories and complete farm crafts.

Week 1: June 22, 24, 26, 9:30 AM–12:30 PM

Week 2: August 3, 5, 7, 9:30 AM–12:30 PM
